

Citizen science can step in when we cannot step out: How the iNaturalist platform is contributing to the national vegetation map in South Africa

