Objective of running these types of programs was that patients become able to bear medical, educational and food expenses by working together to help themselves.

Method:
There is an opportunity for fund raising each year during Eid-ul-Azha, when Muslims sacrifice animals, but it requires man power.

Conclusion:
Getting factor concentrates, treatment information, and even basic living expenses is very difficult for us. We request help from the international Hemophilia community so that we can serve more Patients.
